Policy:

retaliation and reprisal. Protection from retaliation and reprisal is also known as “whistleblower” protection.

1. General

- 1.1 Employees are encouraged to report any actual or potential non-compliance with this Policy, the College Code of Conduct, any other College policies, or any applicable legal requirement so it can be appropriately investigated and addressed.
- 1.2 Protected Disclosures can be made to a Supervisor, the Designated Officer, anonymously to the ConfidenceLine or Website, or to Alberta’s Public Interest Commissioner (“the Commissioner”).
- 1.3 Any issue which presents an imminent risk to health, safety or security should be immediately reported to campus security, local police or other emergency services, as appropriate.
- 1.4 The specific action(s) taken will be determined on a case-by-case basis and will depend on the circumstances and severity of the disclosed incident.
- 1.5 Any person making a disclosure anonymously must be aware that doing so may limit the College’s ability to fully investigate, respond to and resolve the concern.
- 1.6 Disclosures which fall under the scope of this Policy will be investigated in accordance with the Protected Disclosure (Whistleblower) Investigation Procedure.
- 1.7 Nothing in this Policy is intended to prevent Employees from reporting information directly to the Commissioner or an appropriate government agency when there is reasonable belief that a violation of a federal or provincial legal requirement has occurred.

2. Confidentiality and anonymity

- 2.1 Maintaining confidentiality is paramount to the disclosure and investigation process and is essential to protecting the identity of the individual making the disclosure, the individual alleged to have committed the wrongdoing, and witnesses.
- 2.2 The College will ensure the confidentiality and anonymity of all persons who are party to a disclosure as noted in section 2.1.

3. False, misleading or frivolous disclosures

- 3.1 The College prohibits the reporting of disclosures which are knowingly False, deliberately Misleading or Frivolous.
- 3.2 Any person found to have knowingly made a disclosure which is False, deliberately Misleading or Frivolous may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, appointment, or contract, as applicable.

4. Non-retaliation and protection from reprisal

- 4.1 The College strictly prohibits any and all forms of Retaliation and Reprisal against any Employee who reports incidents of possible Wrongdoing or who participates in an investigation as part of a Protected Disclosure investigation process.
- 4.2 All complaints of Retaliation and Reprisal will be managed and investigated by the Office of the Public Interest Commissioner.

5. Annual reporting

- 5.1 The (NTD: Chief Compliance Officer or Chief Human Resources Officer) will provide an annual report to the College’s Board of Governors which will demonstrate, confidentially and in aggregate:
 - i. the number of reports filed that year;
 - ii. the number of reports filed in previous reporting years;

- iii. the number of reports investigated;
- iv. the findings of any investigations conducted; and
- v. any action taken pursuant to a report and, if none, justification for why no actions were taken.

5.2 The (NTD: Chief Compliance Officer or Chief Human Resources Officer) will maintain the confidentiality and anonymity of all reporters at all times during the annual reporting process.

5.3 A summary of annual disclosure reporting will be included in the College's Annual Report.

6. Records retention

6.1 All documents related to a Protected Disclosure and any reporting, investigation and enforcement therein, will be kept in accordance with the College's Record Management and Disposition Policy and any applicable legal requirements.

7. Scope

This Policy applies to Employees who make Protected Disclosures covered under the Act.

This Policy does not replace other College policies and procedures that allow Employees to report allegations, nor does it alter any responsibilities prescribed under existing policies. If the Designated Officer determines that an allegation does not meet the definition of Wrongdoing within this Policy, the Employee will be referred in writing to an appropriate College process to address the allegation.

Allegations made through other policies may become a Protected Disclosure and will be addressed under this Policy if an Employee chooses to file a Protected Disclosure and the Designated Officer determines the allegation meets the definition of Wrongdoing within this Policy.
